Liberté Unplugged

French Beaches is a young company producing wines, beers and spirits. This avant-garde company has teamed up with Brasserie des Pothiers to produce unique beers, such as its rosé beer whose brew is co-fermented with Gamay Saint-Romain wine: a first!

The micro-brewery is located in the Massif Central, in Auvergne, at the source of the Loire river. From this volcanic land was born a unique collaboration in the world of brewing.

PINK BEER

This beer is pinked with fermentation wine. It is a bold attempt, the outcome of which we did not know in advance, unlike a classic beer. This beer can only be produced once a year, as it involves grape juice in fermentation. Unlike the raw materials of the usual brews (malt, barley), available all year round, the grapes are only harvested once a year.

The grapes used for our rosé beer is Gamay Saint-Romain from Domaine des Pothiers, whose vineyard in Côte Roannaise is certified organic and biodynamic.
"Liberté Unplugged - Bière Rosée" is an original beer, whose aromatic complexity leads to umami. It's a rich, full and winey beer that will take you off the beaten track.
AMERICAN PALE ALE (A.P.A.)

The term "Pale Ale" was born in 18th century England, when coal was used to roast malt. "Pale Ale" thus designates beers made with clear malts (pale, crystal) kilned with charcoal and from ale yeast (high fermentation).

The term "A.P.A." designates pales ales sent to the English colonies of Americas. English brewers then supplied the troops with a hoppier beer, so that it retains all its taste qualities despite the long and tumultuous maritime journey, with which the beer was confronted. This style has made a strong comeback thanks to the craft beer movement.

"Liberté Unplugged - A.P.A" is a light in alcohol beer, low in calories, easy to drink, with a dense, velvety and hoppy mouth, ending on superb bitters.
